SM Shelagh Muir

SM My name is Shelagh Muir. I work in research and development for Unilever. I have worked for the company for 12 years and I have basically managed to be involved in every part of the company from a research and development point. So I started in very blue skies, what we call blue skies research, which is corporate research, moved into foods, then moved into our personal care business, and now I'm in the homecare business.
